I am an artist, web developer and author. I am a recent computer science graduate and I have published several books on drawing (The "Fast Freehand Fills" Series and "Mindful Mandalas"). I currently work at a design studio as a web developer. I am always looking for ways to express myself whether through art, books, websites or applications. As an artist, I am most known for my detailed line drawings and pattern art. My art is currently featured at the Littlewood Art Coop. Thank you for allowing me to share my work.
